How Children Grow and Develop

THIS IS WHAT RESEARCH TELLS US:

*Children grow and develop most quickly during the first 5 years of life. During this time, their experiences and relationships prepare them for future learning.

*All children are special in their own ways. All children differ in their abilities and usually develop at different rates.

*Children need positive interactions with family members and friends to develop self-confidence, a sense of security, and a love of learning.

*Children grow and develop in predictable stages.

*When a language other than English is spoken in the home, it is important for children to develop language skills in their home language. Having a strong foundation in their home language helps children more easily learn a new language.

*Children love to learn and they learn best through play.

*Each child has a unique personality. When learning new things, some children may need extra time and supports. Other children like to try things on their own.

*Children with special needs grow and develop in their own ways. When learning new things, these children may require adaptations to activities.
